WELCOME TO THE JOYS OF NUDE LIVING

in sight. Over the years the snap-happy photographer and the voyeur have come to be identified as one by the French. For the stranger there is only one real course of action. He should spend some time at the local club. Here he can enquire as to the location of these small resorts, and preferably visit them with one of the regulars.

The club near Nice, known as La Gorghetta can provide these contacts. It is in itself a delightful place. It is high in the hills behind Nice, and provides every amenity except the sea itself. Many, however, prefer the security of its swimming pool to the doubtful joy of meeting a policeman in a frogsuit.

However, there is one place that you will find without the need of a guide. That is Tahiti Plage, near St Tropez. Why it is that St. Tropez should become the main beachhead for free nudism in France no one knows. You stroll from the entrance to the beach through hundreds of Europe's most famous personalities — all conventionally dressed or rather undressed. You will recognize the occasional film star by the big floppy straw hat and the surrounding circle of admirers. After walking for some twenty minutes you will be startled to notice that here and there the top half of the bikini has vanished And further on you will come to the nudist beach proper Anyone is free to come or go and in fact many of the conventionally dressed including at least one famous film star, visit and enjoy the freedom of the nudist portion of Tahiti Plage

But nobody is really free Clothing, or at least a towel, is always at hand The efforts of the police to defeat the nudists have been either strenuous or ridiculous — depending on which side you are on One thing is certain — the efforts have failed As police patrols walk past, the nudists dress on their approach and undress again when the patrol is a hundred yards further on It has even been known for police patrols when off duty to join the nudists for a swim — in the nude

Police helicopter patrols were effective at first until the nudists realized that short of a sky hook arrests were impossible

Other factions joined the battle One famous French newspaper France Dimanche dropped leaflets from a plane telling the nudists how naughty they were The newspaper got a lot of publicity — but so did the nudists No doubt the paper's circulation went up, but so did the number of nudists, both on the beach and in clubs all over France So much so in fact that the French Naturist Organization (F.F.N.) publicly thanked the paper for the free publicity The good citizens of St Tropez protest aloud but privately rejoice in the happy song of the ever-ringing cash registers

He wrote, "I think that the nudists have performed a tremendous service in helping humanity in our culture learn to accept and esteem sexual anatomy. In my mind, the next step toward emancipation and a view of man and his nature tending toward mental health will be an outlook which accepts and esteems sexual physiology. Our tradition of course has been to reject both sexual anatomy and physiology, considering them essentially evil, obscene and shameful except in very special redemptive circumstances (marriage).

"There is something quite untenable and contradictory in the position that actually the sexual organs are all right, but what they do is bad. Especially when one reflects that their two main roles are to produce new life and to provide a singular and beautiful type of pleasure."

The reiteration of that view, its expansion into realistic life goals and new approaches to solving the problems posed, will be one of my aims in resuming editorship of NUDE Living. □

NAUTICAL NUDES AND HERE'S WHY –

The gang got together
and they did flock-o!
Rented a boat by name
of Sirocco!
Packed up some hats
as they locked up their flats
Just for good cheer
some six-packs of beer
a few sundry foods
and they're Nautical Nudes!
On to the beaches of Mexico's shores
with sunshine for blankets and soft sand for floors
into and out of many a pool
running and jumping like any young fool
Southward and Eastward to Florida's coast for walking on water with skis is the MOST!
